Our Mission: To improve the quality of life of the people in the communities we serve through health care and education

Our Vision: Kettering Health Network will be recognized as the leader in transforming the healthcare experience.

Our Values: Trustworthy, Innovative, Caring, Competent, Collaborative
At Kettering Health Network, we see each day as an opportunity to build upon Charles F. Kettering’s legacy, to serve one another, to deliver hope and healing, and to impact our community through innovation and education.

Jesus’ healing example serves as our guide. When Jesus saw the needs of those around Him, He felt compassion and healed them. Rooted in our Seventh-day Adventist healthcare philosophy, our physicians, employees, and volunteers extend God’s love by walking alongside patients, families, and community members to offer care that nurtures the mind, body, and spirit.

The accomplishments highlighted in this report demonstrate our commitment to transforming the healthcare experience through our sacred work.

Thank you for the difference you make.

“Nothing ever rose to touch the skies unless someone dreamed that it should, someone believed that it could, and someone willed that it must.”

Quality and Safety

To ensure that the people in our communities receive the best care possible, we maintain high standards for quality and safety across the network.

In 2016, the network was named a 15 Top Health System and ranked in the national top 3% for quality and safety, according to Truven Health Analytics, a leading provider of information and solutions to improve the cost and quality of health care.

At Kettering Health Network, we define quality and safety using Truven Health Analytics’ measures for a 100 Top Hospital, which are based on composite scores for patient safety, patient experience, hospital length of stay, core measures (evidence-based treatment guidelines), mortality, and readmissions to the hospitals within 30 days.

One Best Practice encompasses all facets of the network, including clinical quality, employee engagement, and patient satisfaction. It ensures that when patients walk into Kettering Health Network facilities, they experience the same high standard of quality care and excellent service, no matter which location they visit.

Here are a few ways Kettering Health Network strengthened operations in 2016 through network alignment:

- Established Kettering Mobile Care to increase patient access
- Established the Surgical Emergency Response Team to expand trauma services
- Implemented Called to Lead training to strengthen “Called to Care” culture initiative within organization leadership
- Opened second transition clinic to bridge the gap between emergency department discharge and primary care
- Expanded care coordination in outpatient setting through Kettering Physician Network Comprehensive Primary Care Plus (CPC+) practices
- Conducted 26 optimization sessions to streamline clinical documentation across the network
- Initiated hourly rounding training for all new nurses to proactively meet patient needs
- Developed tracking for nurse leader rounding and bedside shift reporting to improve and ensure consistent employee performance and patient experience

Why quality matters

If every hospital across the nation performed as a Truven 100 Top Hospital:

- 89,000 additional inpatient lives could be saved
- 61,000 additional patients could be complication free
- $5.6 billion in inpatient costs could be saved
- 300,000 fewer discharged patients would be readmitted within 30 days

Quality and Safety

Kettering Health Network remains focused on identifying and promoting singular best practices throughout the network.
Strategic Direction

In 2016, Kettering Health Network achieved top results in several key areas. As we move forward, strategic focus areas will guide our plan to continue serving our communities today and into the future.

Healing with Purpose

To transform the experience of cancer care, Kettering Health Network consulted the experts: ordinary people who have faced the extraordinary challenge of a cancer diagnosis.

“When you pass through the waters, I will be with you; and when you pass through the rivers, they will not sweep over you. When you walk through the fire, you will not be burned; the flames will not set you ablaze.”

Isaiah 43:2

The Kettering Cancer Center, located in the Pavilion on Kettering Medical Center’s campus, opened in December 2016 to provide advanced patient-centered cancer care.
To build the future of cancer care, Kettering Health Network put patient voices at the heart of every decision.

POWER OF PATIENT VOICES

To create a comprehensive, patient-centered model of cancer care, listening became sacred work. “In a faith-based organization, we build each other up; it’s not just business,” says Elizabeth Garrison, executive director of oncology at Kettering Health Network. From the first day of planning until the cancer center opened in December 2016, Elizabeth met regularly with 30 cancer patients, survivors, family members, and physicians who formed a Patient Advisory Council.

The collective experiences of advisory council members helped to ensure that patients’ needs were at the center of every decision made.

“Even though our journeys have been so different,” says Jennie Stockslager, a five-time ovarian cancer survivor, “the one thing that all of us share and that we’ve been able to bring our hearts to is we’ve heard those words: You have cancer. Our experiences have been part of the planning so that every need from every level as a patient has been anticipated and will be met.”

Using their collective experiences, the council developed the center to serve as a single touchpoint for patients and families navigating the journey through cancer diagnosis, treatment, and healing.

HOLISTIC APPROACH

With more than 30 collaborating physicians from a range of specialties, as well as dedicated social workers, dietitians, financial navigators, and chaplains, the space allows for the most advanced patient-centered care in an environment created for healing the whole person—body, mind, and spirit.

The center features a cafe that focuses on the nutritional needs and tastes of cancer patients, holistic treatments such as medical massage, and a boutique that offers postsurgical apparel and products. It also includes specialty pharmacies and the area’s largest private cancer infusion center.

With access to innovative diagnosis and treatment technology, patients receive the highest quality care, not only improving their outcomes but their level of comfort.

“We have all the latest cutting-edge technology to track, target, and kill tumors in any part of the body, sparing normal healthy tissue,” says E. Ronald Hale, MD, MPH, radiation oncology medical director for Kettering Health Network.

“But what makes this cancer center different from others is that your physician is here with you every day. It means that we can take the time to personalize your treatment and personally assist you every step of the way.”

HEALING LEGACY

For Jenny, Elizabeth, Dr. Hale, and the countless others involved in the planning, design, and construction, the cancer center is not just a building, but a blessing from those who have determined to turn their darkest days into a light of hope and healing for the future.

“They understood that there is no singular cause of cancer and no singular cure,” Dr. Hale says. “They understood that thinking outside the box doesn’t mean to just do something different, it means to do what matters most. They dared to do something great. They dared to leave a legacy of love.”

“Bear one another’s burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.” Galatians 6:2
Improving Patient Access

In 2016, the network built new community partnerships and expanded existing collaborations to increase patient access opportunities and ensure that community members can receive the best care, close to home.

Kettering Mobile Care
To better serve patients and care providers in light of increasing patient volumes, the network partnered with Buckeye Ambulance to establish Kettering Mobile Care, a medical transportation service solely dedicated to transporting patients into and out of the network’s facilities. The fleet of 26 patient transportation vehicles is one of the largest hospital-branded fleets in Ohio.

MedFlight Partnership
In partnership with MedFlight, the network announced plans to add a permanent medical helicopter and base at the Preble County Medical Center in Eaton in 2017. This addition gives the network access to three helicopters dedicated to our service areas.

Surgical Emergency Response Team
The network established a Surgical Emergency Response Team, the first program of its kind in the Dayton area, to provide advanced surgical care at the scene of an accident for a person who cannot be extricated and transported to a hospital for treatment in a reasonable amount of time.

At Kettering Health Network, reaching out to serve others is our sacred work. As the hands and feet of Jesus Christ, we extend care in many ways: nurturing the spirit of those who seek our help, hosting health events for the community, supporting others who share our common goal of service, and connecting people to resources that promote health and wellness. Some of our employees extend this ministry beyond our hospital walls, into the community, and throughout the world, embracing the universal impact of service.

“Let each of you look out not only for his own interests, but also for the interests of others.”
Philippians 2:4
Serving the Human Spirit

As a faith-based organization, we are blessed with the opportunity to care for the spiritual health of others. Because each person deserves our respect and devotion, we provide a healing environment that nurtures the human spirit.

HEALING CULTURE
We believe prayer works, and our culture empowers our physicians and employees to pray with patients and minister to those who seek healing. Our network also offers many spiritual resources, from short devotional videos to an entire team dedicated to serving the spiritual needs of our patients.

WEEK OF RENEWAL
Each year, the network dedicates a special Week of Renewal to focus on prayer and spiritual reflection. A video devotional series and an exclusive coloring booklet offer advice for creating a life that flourishes in the everyday.

GOSPELFEST
More than 1,500 community members attended the network’s GospelFest, which featured free performances by 10 local bands and Sidewalk Prophets, a contemporary Christian music band from Nashville, Tennessee.

CREATION WALLS
To share the word of God on all our campuses, the network continues to install Creation Walls consisting of eight sculptured panels—one for each day of creation, plus one to reflect on the beginning of time—throughout its campuses. Southview Medical Center and the Kettering Cancer Center unveiled Creation Walls in 2016.

SPIRITUAL SERVICES
Our Spiritual Services and Mission team is an extension of Jesus’ healing ministry. They focus on caring for the spiritual well-being of patients from all spiritual backgrounds by offering prayer support, counseling, grief recovery, and daily encouragement.

In 2016, the Spiritual Services and Mission team helped fulfill:

- 261 Prayer requests
- 249 Peacefinders materials requests
- 189 Bible study requests
- 12 Baptism requests
Each year Kettering Health Network physicians, nurses, staff, and volunteers travel across the world to bring healing to the global community. The network also supports numerous affiliated organizations who deliver healing through mission trips, and many network employees participate in mission trips of their own. Here are just a few of the global communities we served in 2016.

AFRICA

Kenya

Ben Carpenter, administrative fellow for Kettering Health Network, led a team of eight to Kenya. The team treated 437 patients during their five-day trip.

“I think it’s so important for people to have an opportunity to attend a mission trip,” Ben says. “It changes our perspectives when we travel to another country, witness another culture, and meet someone else in this world that lives so differently than ourselves. It helps put our own blessings in perspective.”

Asia

Shanghai, China

Since 1986, Kettering Health Network has maintained a relationship with Huashan Hospital, collaborating on ways to be innovative and foster growth.

Thailand

Kettering Health Network and Caring Partners International have partnered for many years to provide each other medical supplies and volunteers. In 2016 five Kettering Health Network physicians and nurses joined Caring Partners International’s mission trip to Thailand, helping treat more than 1,600 patients over 13 days.

South America

Argentina

Steven Schmidt, MD, from Plastic Surgery Institute of Dayton and Kettering and Sycamore medical centers, traveled to Argentina with a team of 58. The team treated 560 medical clinic patients, 74 dental patients, and performed 180 operations.

Belize

Robert Peets, DO, from Dayton Eye Care and Grandview Medical Center, led his 11th annual trip to Belize. His team, including two Grandview residents and several others, performed more than 45 surgeries and examined or treated 110 patients who have neither the money nor the transportation to travel for treatment from one of the few ophthalmologists in Belize City.

Peru

More than 30 students, faculty, and staff from Kettering College served the people of Iquitos and the Amazon jungle. In only four days of clinics, the team saw more than 800 patients, offering dental hygiene instruction and checking blood pressure, cholesterol, and BMI.
HEALTH OUTREACH
Through the network’s Community Outreach department, we host many health-related events that empower people to pursue healthy lifestyles by providing screenings, education, exercise classes, and family fun. The events offer resources to improve the heart, diabetes, breast, and overall health of the community.

HEAL DAYTON
The network hosted its first-ever free community clinic, Heal Dayton, in collaboration with the Adventist Medical Evangelism Network (AMEN). During the two-day clinic, more than 500 volunteers, including 220 medical professionals, served nearly 900 local community members. “I wouldn’t have been able to get my medicine without this,” one Dayton resident said. “I’m really blessed. It doesn’t just happen by chance that God has been so good today.”

“The big goal is to serve the community and try to make people healthier. After that, if we can show people a little more about Christ, that would be great.”

HEALTH LITERACY
Through more than 300 pages of health information, the network’s three publications—Health Connection, Years Ahead, and Physician Quarterly—connect community members to health services, educate seniors on available discounted programs, and support physician interaction and achievement.

Serving our Own

Our mission comes to life through our people. We believe that building a great workplace community unites us in pursuit of our common purpose.

DEVELOPING

• To improve access to development opportunities for employees, we launched a new Tuition Assistance Program and increased the number of participants.

219 employees enrolled as new participants in the new tuition assistance program

• Kettering College began offering a discount on tuition for employees as well as their dependents.

• Kettering Health Young Professionals group and INSPIRE women’s leadership group offer development, networking, and social events for members.

PURSUING WELLNESS

• In 2016, the network launched the Be Well website, which offers resources to help employees get moving, get care, get nourished, get balanced, and get saving.

• Through the employee wellness program, employees have access to same-day drop-in medical care for themselves and their families, sports leagues, on-site fitness centers, fitness membership discounts, seasonal wellness challenges, and a single call center to connect them with resources and services.

CELEBRATING

• As part of a robust Reward and Recognition program, employees can nominate one another to be a Network Star. An annual red carpet event, Evening with Our Network Stars, honors awardees and celebrates employees who have dedicated years of service. In 2016, the event featured a concert by Christian recording artist Matthew West.

2,801 employees were nominated as a Network Star

• Many celebratory events show our gratitude to our employees. During Hospital Week, all employees enjoy prize drawings, facility celebrations, and opportunities to share photos and stories of each other. A special luncheon and award event honors our nurses during Nurses Week. Summer picnics at each campus offer employees the opportunity to relax outside over lunch, and holiday events on each campus celebrate the season’s festivities.
Criswell Davis had a persistent sore throat—a big problem for someone who made a living as a public speaker and architectural consultant. Criswell headed to Grandview Medical Center for what was to be an outpatient biopsy procedure. Instead, doctors found a mass blocking 90 percent of his airway and performed a tracheotomy, without which, Criswell's airway would have closed completely. “I was stunned, shocked, and really frightened,” Criswell says. “I took care of myself, ran marathons, never smoked—nothing about my lifestyle indicated something like this was even possible.”

Like most people just diagnosed with cancer, Criswell found himself feeling a frightening lack of control over what was happening to him, and he knew that the team at Grandview could sense his anxiety.

“Everyone who came into the ICU was incredibly caring, knowledgeable, confident and supportive. They made me feel like I was their most important patient,” remembered Criswell. “They were amazing to me and my family.”

Not long after his treatment ended, Criswell was asked to join the patient advisory council for the new Kettering Cancer Center. His architectural expertise and personal experiences helped create an interior design that integrates natural light and images from nature into the building itself.

If his input as a surviving cancer patient can help to make the new center a better healing environment, even to the smallest degree, then that means a great deal to Criswell.

“Being on the council has been my way to give back to the health system that helped me to regain my voice.” Criswell

Care for the whole person—body, mind, and spirit—integrates care for each patient’s physical, intellectual, emotional, and spiritual needs in an intentionally healing environment. Dedicated to restoring the health and wellness of every patient, our physicians, nurses, staff, and volunteers deliver healing through purposeful and personalized care, aided by superior technology and supported by a heritage of innovation.
Established in the spirit of innovation, Kettering Medical Center is the network’s flagship hospital, serving patients throughout the Dayton area since 1964. The campus includes the Benjamin and Marian Schuster Heart Hospital, Brain & Spine, Kettering Cancer Center, and Kettering Joint Center.

“There will always be a frontier where there is an open mind and a willing hand.”

Charles F. Kettering
“For I know the plans I have for you,’ declares the Lord, ‘plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.” Jeremiah 29:11

As a faith-based, not-for-profit organization, we protect and carefully manage the resources entrusted to our care, using them to support the health and future of others. To be faithful stewards of our financial resources, we deliberately advocate for those who need help accessing health care, provide a living for our employees, advance our facilities to meet the needs of those we serve, and secure the financial health of our organization so we can continue moving forward in our care for the community.
Because Kettering Health Network is a not-for-profit organization, all net revenue over expenses goes back to our hospitals, facilities, and services. Unlike for-profit healthcare organizations, where money becomes dividend checks to investors, this money funds capital improvements, enhanced patient care, new hospital programs, and community outreach.

50 HEALING WITH PURPOSE
A Foundation of Support

The year before Kettering-native Jeff Mullins became an attorney, he lost his father to cancer. As he began his career at such a difficult time, Jeff found a strong support system in his mother, his wife, and his practice assistant, Pam.

When Pam was diagnosed with breast cancer in 2008, “It shook me to my core,” Jeff says. Four years later, Jeff’s wife, Mary, received the same news. “That’s when I learned there are so many tough decisions to make in this process,” Jeff says. “Here at Kettering Health Network, though, everyone we talked to listened to what she said and what she wanted to do. They were committed to making the right decision for her and listened to everything that she said to help formulate a treatment plan.

“When I learned that the network was building a cancer center, I knew this was something I wanted to be part of,” says Jeff, who now supports Kettering Medical Center Foundation, one of the network’s four foundations, as a board member and major donor.

Last year while construction of the cancer center was underway, Jeff’s mother was also diagnosed with breast cancer. “What I’ve learned from all the waiting rooms is that there are little things that make a difference. Things like your doctors praying with you before surgery, having snacks and beverages available for family members, and being able to look outside during treatment seem small on their own, but to someone fighting for their life—for their families—collectively, they’re big. They really make a difference.

“For us, it has made difficult times much less difficult. Being a part of that process has been a real blessing in my life.”

Giving with Purpose

When donors choose to support one of our network’s four foundations, they act on an essential truth: generosity heals. With each gift entrusted to our care, the foundations create a positive impact on the future health of the community by thoughtfully investing resources into hospital services, healthcare education, resident physicians, and employee development.

“In life, it’s best to surround yourself with people who push you, who want to help make you better than you are, who expect you to give your best and to be your best. These three women did that for me.” Jeff
