Our Patient Advisory Council

A 30-member council, made up of cancer patients, survivors, family members, and physicians, gave Kettering Health Network input on the new cancer center from the perspective of people who have lived through cancer diagnoses and treatment.

Their input is reflected in everything from the building and interior design to the choice of chemotherapy treatment chairs. Using their collective experience and knowledge, these patients and survivors have helped develop the future of cancer care in our community.

“Even though our journeys have been so different, the one thing that all of us share and that we’ve been able to bring our hearts to is we’ve heard those words: ‘You have cancer.’ Our experiences have been part of the planning so that every need from every level as a patient has been anticipated and will be met.”
